You can lay as much of it as you please to good hard work and splendid management, but the truth of the matter is the people have at last gotten their eyes open and opinions have changed.

CLOVERPORT is "below the Harlem" in Breckenridge county. Every Democratic candidate came to Cloverport defeated, but our majorities, ranging from 45 to 285 pulled them all through.

WHEREVER the secret ballot has been introduced, it has been followed by Democratic gains. Before the election the Republicans claimed that it would work to their interest, but the returns show otherwise.

If the Democratic party will carry out its pledges to the people it may hold the reins of power for sometime. She has of Republican bossism, an opportunity made many propositions of reform and to break away from his tyranical rulers, the people will expect them to be carried and vote his sentiments without being out strictly. Let us lift the burden of "cussed" or abused by them. Long live taxation from the masses and be loyal the secret ballot. and true to every section.

THE official vote of the county shows that Democrats have a clear majority. There was no interference with the voter at the late election. Without molestation or hinderance, every man walked up to the polls and cast his ballot as he wished. The returns show that a good majority were Democrats. This will be so in the future if we put good men in office.

THE Democratic land-slide was inaugurated when Mr. Cleveland and the representatives of Tammany Hall came to an understanding with each other, and Gov. Flower predicted that New York would give 59,000 majority for the to carry New York, gave fresh life to not voting for Weaver, but against Har-Democrats all over the country and they went to work. Is it possible that our streets will remain unfinished until the river rises and gets up into the gravel pit and prevents us from getting any more gravel? "Get a move on you," boys. The river is rising now, and the Cloverport people don't want to have our streets in a worse condition than country roads all this

THE American Tin Plate factory at Elwood, Ind., closed down on the morning after the election. It now develops that it was only run during the campaign for electioneering purposes, like a campaign paper, and was kept going by contributions from the Republican campaign fund. Now what do some of you onehorse Republican orators think who plate industry of America which the of business. McKinley Bill had placed upon its feet,"

Ir's all over, and the country's safe, Wev'e had our howl. Wev'e blown our horn and guyed our Republican friends to our heart's content and we ought to be happy. Now let us get down to business. Lets join hands with our good Republican brothers and make a pull for better streets, better country roads and the developement of our natural resources. There's a deal of work to do along this line, both in town and country, and we should all be up and at it. Here's good cheer and prosperity to Democrats and Republicans everywhere.

THE Third party suffered an agnominious defeat, not only in Breckenridge, but in every county composing the Fourth Congressional District, Time and time again the News warned those Democrats who sought refuge with that party to remain with us, but they treated our admonitions lightly and went their way. Now it is not too late to repent. Our doors are still wide open. The old cock crows louder and still louder. There is abundance of rejoicing, fellowship and good feeling among Democrats everywhere, and none are inclined to taunt the wayward or the fallen. Come back boys, come back.

It is easily accounted for why the secret ballot increased the Democratic majority in the old Democratic state of Kentucky, in stead of giving an increased Republican vote, as the Republicans confidently expected. The fact is the secret ballot gave many a man who had always voted the Republican ticket, but whose convictions had honestly changed a chance to vote the Democratic ticket without being laughed at, intimidated or spurned by the Republican bosses. and it gave many a negro, who had long been writhing under the galling yoke

AFTER all, the Third party people can no be blamed much, they were overanxious for a change of things, and thought that they could shorten matters by pulling loose from the old parties and hewing out a road of their own. This has proved a difficult task, and now that the Democrats have succeeded in routing the party of oppression and unjust laws, the greater part of the reformers will fall into the Democratic line.

THE only places that the Third party got any thing, were where the Demo crats aided them, and they should not deceive themselves by thinking that this is a demonstration of their strength. ## WE GET IT ALL!

We Carry States by Whole Rows Instead of Scattering.

New Jersey, New York and Connecticut, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin, is the Way We Count Them.

The Sénate is Ours by a Safe Majority, and We Will Make the Laws.

ECONOMY AND REFORM IS THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

AND WE'LL HAVE IT

The result of the election is actually better than we indicated in last week's paper. The great State of Wisconsin has while the heretofore solidly Republican State of Ohio is so close that Republicans are fairly trembling. The majority for twenty-two of the Republican electors will be less than 1,000, and one of the Democratic electors will be elected. So voters of the great Mc-

Kinley State bave repudiated McKinley and his bill. The election of one Democratic elector and the reduction of the Republican majorities on the others to these meagre fiaures can truly be considered as a Democratic victory. The State of California, which has been in doubt, latest and most attractive designs. Call | willprobably give the Republican electors small plurality.

The vote in the electoral college now stands as follows: Cleveland .....

Harrison ...... 155

Besides electing the President and the Lower House of Congress by a large majority, we have secured enough Legislatures to insure us a majority in the United States Senate, and thus for the first time in more than thirty years the Democrats will have full control of the government. The complection of the next Senate will stand as follows:

Republicans ...... 40

It will be seen from these figures that future home, should the Populists vote solidly with Republicans, which they are not likly to do, the vote would be a tie, and with Adlai, E. Stevenson in the chair, the Democrats have nothing to fear. But they were given instructions from the the inference is that there will never be clerk. Others used the pencif instead of a tie vote in the U. S. Senate during this session, for as there is a great deal of into the booth and stuck a two cent post- sympathy existing between the Populists age stamp on his ballot, supposing that and the Democrats, and as these Poputhis was the kind of stamping required. lists members owe their seats as much to the aid of Democrats as to the votes of members of their own party, it is reasonable to suppose that they will vote with the Democrats on all issues of reform. The authority is positively all in our hands, and it will be used for reform and the good of the people.

Last Tuesday the States from coast to coast spoak their choice for Chief-Ruler, be it whom it may, the country is safe. Let us hope that the result will redound to the advantage and advancement of all the people; let us bury our political hostilities and become a brotherly, generous, neighbor-loving people, let us all of whatever political faith, shake hands and each say, he is your president as well as mine, and if you can live under his rule so can I. The American government is not put to shame, we still have the grandest government on the face of the globe. The school at the Cunningham schoolhouse is progressing nicely. Without question and without disparagement to predecessors, Mr. Chas. Cunningham is the most progressive teacher that has ever taught in this county. He will not see his school lag behind in a matter of such great importance. The students are advancing rapidly, and his work is giving the highest satisfaction. Parents stop and think, don't keep your children at home one day out of three.
